

A WORD TO THOSE WHO BOARD.

What is more pleasing to the eye and taste than to sit down to a table with those crystal cubes tingling in your glass these hot days?

If you are not getting this necessity, why not go where you can as it costs no more.

There is a good number of hotels, restaurants and boarding houses that use nothing but PURE CRYSTAL ICE for their table as well as to keep their meats.

Why not get the best when you are paying for it? Is your health not worth considering?

Roswell Gas Company

"Sweet the Coal Man."

Mrs. John I. Hinkle, of Dexter was here visiting friends today.

Little Miss Marian and Master Geo. Jewett, Jr., have a little sister who arrived early this morning.

A new van enables me to make a strong bid for the house and furniture moving of Roswell. All work guaranteed. Phone 440 or 313. Joe Torian, the old reliable. 9116.

Telephone Poles From Dexter.

A force of seven men went to Dexter yesterday and pulled up the twenty-five poles that had been set for a telephone exchange in that place and brought them to Roswell for the north hill extensions of the Roswell exchange. They are all 25 foot poles. They were not needed in Dexter as the exchange there was given up before it was completed.

SOUTHERN HEADQUARTERS AT SEATTLE EXPOSITION.

George M. Slaughter is in receipt of an invitation from the Confederate Veterans, their sons and daughters, of Seattle, Wash., to attend the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in their city and to come for information, accommodations and good fellowship to the Southern Headquarters these organizations have established in the fair grounds of the exposition city. Mr. Slaughter is asked to extend this invitation to all Southerners in Roswell and this section of New Mexico, and this Mr. Slaughter does, through the columns of the Record. Southern Headquarters will be a place where all visitors from the Southern States may meet their friends and mingle with their own people.

Notice of Removal.

I have moved my tailor shop from the rear of The Wigwam to 118 South Main where I will be pleased to see all my old customers and my share of new ones. My phone number is now 104. I am prepared to give the best of service and also do cleaning and pressing in the most approved manner.—F. A. Mueller, The Tailor. 881f.

PLANS FOR EMANCIPATION DAY FROLIC SPOILED.

For a long time the negroes of Roswell have been planning to have a big celebration tomorrow, Saturday, June 19, which is the time observed as Emancipation Day. The first of the week one of their number, Carter by name, canvassed the city and took up money to buy paraphernalia for a base ball game, as the negro team from Amarillo was to be here to play the local sluggers. All plans were turning nicely till it came time to select the players on the team. For this purpose a meeting was called and it was here that the fact became known that there were more players than there were places to put them. When one big, husky Freedman found out that he was to "play the bench," he started things, and a general row followed. As a result, several of the party were up before Justice A. J. Welter in police court. Claud Johnson was fined 50 and costs for being in possession of a Winchester on such an occasion and Carter, the solicitor, was given a lighter fine for fighting. Carter succeeded in getting some of his friends to guarantee his fine and then left without telling them goodbye. He is gone, and has taken the base ball paraphernalia with him. His friends will have to pay the fine. Claud is in jail waiting for the time to pass. Meanwhile, the plans for Emancipation Day are in such a muddle the negroes don't know just what they will do. They hope to pull off a ball game with the local Mexicans in the afternoon and a dance at night.

LAND OFFICE TO MOVE TO WELLS BUILDING.

The Register and the Receiver of the Government Land Office today received a telegram from the Post Office department at Washington authorizing them to make lease and move the land office to the second story of the new Wells Building on South Main street, August 1. The new quarters will have rooms for register, receiver and the hearing of contests; also a big vault and plenty of shelf room. Enlarged quarters have long been needed by the land office.

Mail for Pitcairn Islanders.

Santiago, Chile, June 18.—His Majesty's Ship Flora, of the British navy, is scheduled to sail from Coquimbo today for Pitcairn Island, and will carry to that little country in the distant Pacific the first mail it has had in nearly two years. The few citizens of this British dependency are accustomed to infrequent mails, but the cruiser is later than usual this trip and its arrival will probably create an unprecedented commotion.

Pitcairn Island is out of the track of ships of the civilized world; the rift of the horizon is ever clear save perhaps, when some drunken wind-jammer wanders from the "road" and appears like a ghost ship in the evening hall light, passing by the bustling centres the other side of the Horn; or when there creeps up this cruiser, sent by the British government to "show the flag" and to see that all is well with the exiles in this lonesome corner of the sea wilderness, "the world forgetting, by the world forgot."

More than a century ago the good ship Bounty was in the waters of the Southern Pacific when the crew mutinied, and ten of them, led by Fletcher Christian, subsequently murdered by the natives, made for this island of Pitcairn. This was in the year 1790. With them the mutineers took six native men and eleven women from Tahiti as servants and wives. Once on the solitary island they thought they were safe from the consequences of their action; that they would never be discovered.

For twenty-four years that was so. Then one day, when the mutiny flared but faintly in the world's memory, and Christian and his fellows had been reckoned as dead, a ship chanced to put in at Pitcairn for shelter. On landing the captain was astonished to be addressed in English by men who were obviously of European origin. Then out came the whole story. Since then the exiles have had many visits and received many kindnesses from "ships that passed," and through all these years, although the original colonists are long since dead, their descendants preserve the English tongue, and as far as possible, in view of their isolation from the centres of fashion, hold to European modes of dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, of Sapulpa, Oklahoma, arrived last night for Mrs. Shaw's health. Mrs. Shaw was taken to St. Mary's hospital today.

The Faultless Fitting Shoe For Women

Shoes For Women

The new summer styles are quite beautiful to say the least. We have just opened up a big shipment of these celebrated shoes. A sense of fitness often determines important matters, but in no case is this so true as in the purchase of shoes. 'Tis then every feature of worth has full consideration.

Fit, style, quality and price receive careful attention from the discriminating buyer.

It is to this class that "QUEEN QUALITY" Shoes strongly appeal. Something to fit every foot, whether it be long, short, slim or fat.

They possess all that late "snappy" style, so attractive for the summer season. The material is the best known to the manufacturers.

The shoes sell at a price extraordinarily consistent, compared with actual value.

You'll think so, too, when you see these oxfords and will understand that they are lacking in nothing that good shoes should offer. Come in and look over our stock, examine them inside and out, then try on a pair—we ask no more.

Clothes Style

is not a commodity that you can buy in handy, dust proof packages. It isn't sold that way and you can't get it in every suit you buy unless its an ATTERBURY make.

ATTERBURY Clothes are never skimped in materials, labor or fashion features. The makers would rather skimp their own profits than skimp the clothes they put out. They are always endeavoring to make their clothes just a little better than others. :: :: ::

We would rather you would see the suits in every store in town, then you will be better able to appreciate our Atterbury Clothes
